"A SYMBOL OF BEAUTY"

CAN we put it into words . . . this way we feel about Sweet Briar . . . its red buildings and green grass . . . a little world all its own . . . green acres through white columns . . . the dells . . . the winding road . . . the boxwood . . . the feeling that somehow we have always belonged here? Familiar but always new . . . this is Sweet Briar . . . for us who know it and love it no more can be said.

"On the Campus"

DEDICATION

ALWAYS ready with a sympathetic ear to listen to our various and sundry problems—New England's frankness and naturalness plus that Southern warmth and friendliness—never refusing to give that special permission if it is within her power to give—a delightful sense of humor—understanding and ready to help, this—is Miss Matthews.

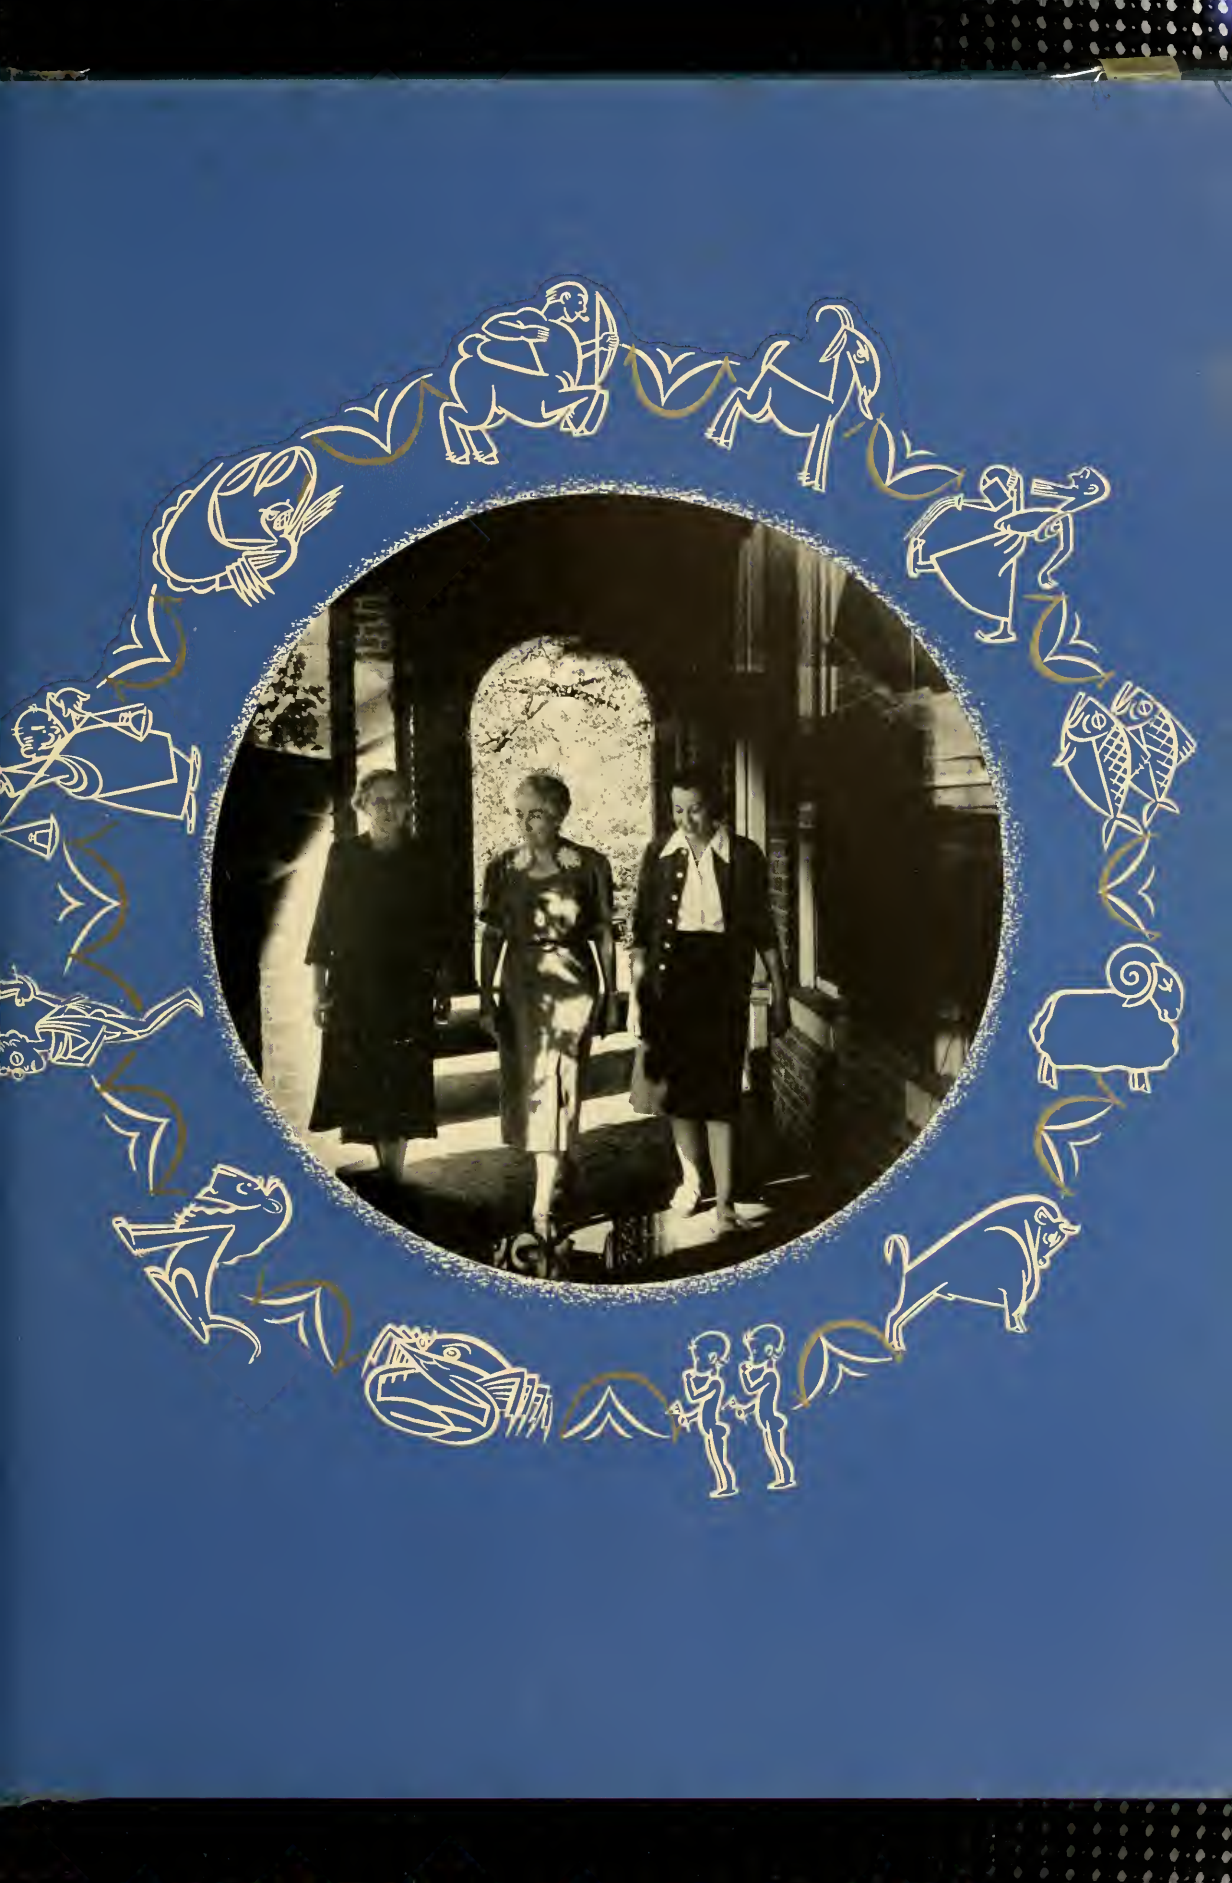

In deep appreciation for all she has done for us, and everyone, the class of nineteen hundred and forty-three dedicates to her

THE SWEET BRIAR ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS

President: MRS. ROBERT H. SCHANNELL (Fanny Ellsworth, '21).

First Vice-President: GERTRUDE PRIOR, '29.

Second Vice-President: MARY PETTY JOHNSON, '40.

Executive Secretary and Treasurer: HELEN H. MCMAHON, '23.

Chairman, Alumnae Fund: MARY V. MARKS, '35.

Alumna Member of the Board of Directors: MRS. CHARLES R. BURNETT (Eugenia Griffin, '10).

Alumnae Representatives on the Board of Overseers: MRS. MARGARET GRANT, '15; MRS. JOSEPH WINSTON COX, JR. (Edna Lee, '26).

Members of the Alumnae Council: MRS. EARL S. RIDLER (Mary Bissell, '17); MRS. E. C. IVEY, JR. (Eugenia Goodall, '25); MRS. RICHARD H. BALCH (Elizabeth Prescott, '28); MRS. EDMUND W. HARRISON (Mary Huntington, '30); MARTHA VON BRIESEN, '31; MRS. HOWARD LUFF (Isabel Webb, '20).

The Sweet Briar Alumnae Association was organized "to further the well-being of the college, its graduates and former students, by increasing the interest of its members in the college and in each other." As a group the Alumnae Association has been active in keeping up the contacts between those who were Sweet Briar and those who are Sweet Briar today. The Alumnae News, published quarterly, brings to the alumnae events of interest on the campus, and those affecting Sweet Briar alumnae directly or indirectly.

Believing that it is a privilege to have a share in the dynamic business of education and in perpetuating the finest traditions of Sweet Briar, the alumnae have organized an Alumnae Fund to which voluntary contributions are made each year. The proceeds from this fund are presented to the college at the end of the academic year.

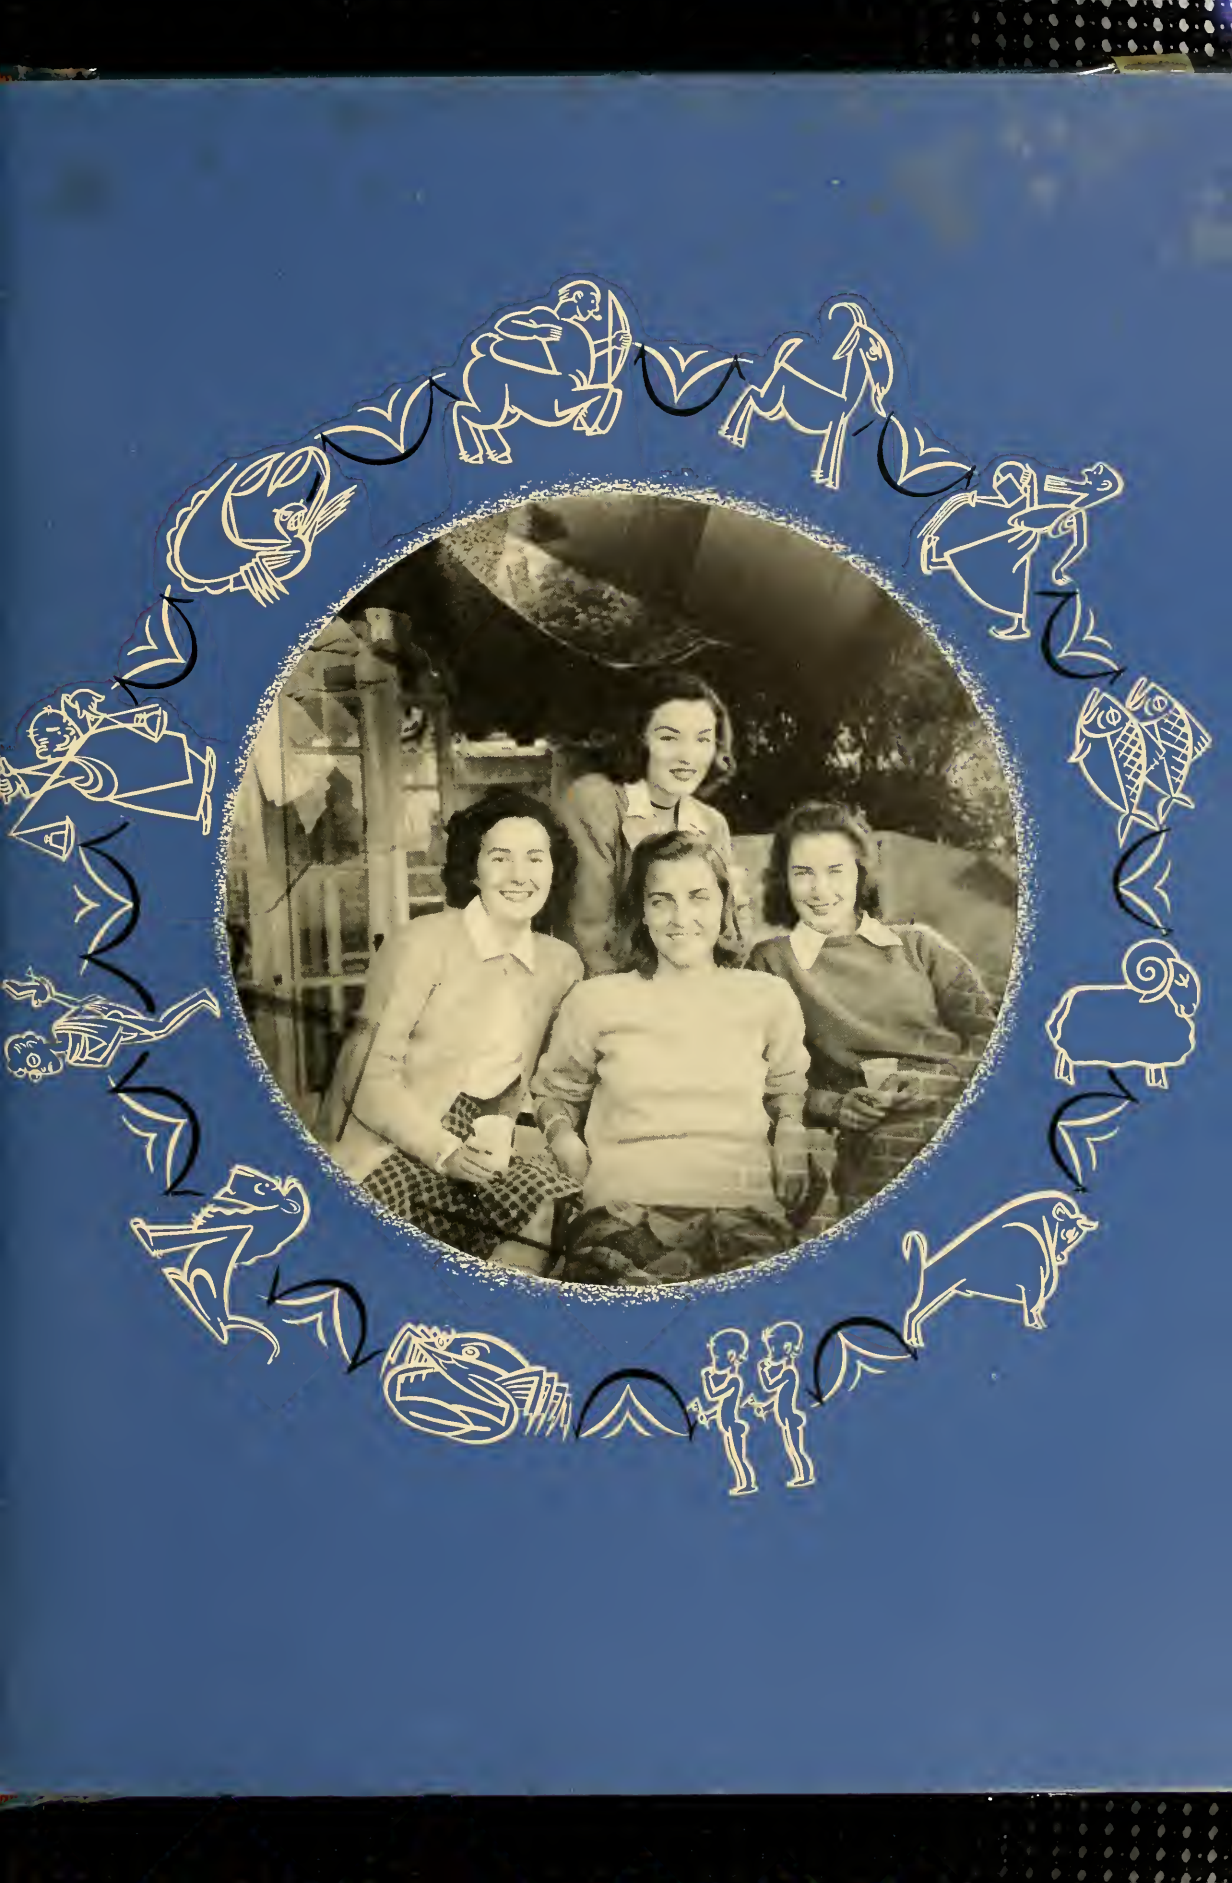

Each year at Commencement, as a memorial to a man who served Sweet Briar first as legal advisor and later as chairman of its board of directors, the Alumnae Association gives the Manson Memorial Scholarship to an upperclassman, who, in addition to distinguishing herself in the academic field, has shown qualities which make her a real leader and contributor to the life of Sweet Briar College. On June 10, 1941, the Manson Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Hanger of Bala, Pennsylvania, a member of the Class of 1942.

Sweet Briar Day, held during the Christmas season on December 28th, brings the alumnae together in their many alumnae clubs and groups with students now attending Sweet Briar. The students are thus enabled to know the alumnae of their vicinity, and to give former students a new contact with the college and its development.

In 1937 at the suggestion of Susan Jelley, 1928, a proposal for the establishment of alumnae representatives on admission was put into effect. The purpose of this plan is to keep all interested alumnae and alumnae clubs well-informed about the academic and community life of the college by means of an especially prepared study course and examination so that they may intelligently and officially represent the college at secondary school functions and thus create and maintain contacts vital to the well-being of the college. Each year the title, alumnae representative on admission, must be confirmed by re-examination.

*Resigned February 1, 1942.

Can it be true—the golden stairs caps and gowns are yours at last . . .

that the perfect friendships that have come from four years of working—playing together are over . . . that this is the end of . . .

signing in . . . of sunbathing on the arcades . . .

of breakfasts at the Inn . . . cigarettes and gossip

in the Senior Parlor . . . and a million things you did together?—these are things no one can forget to remember . . . for years later

you find them still "within your heart" . . .

GAY TIME

What! What! . . . Blowing Rock . . .

Oh! to be a sophisticated Senior . . . "Let's everybody cat 'bout everybody else" . . . "Just looking Thanks!"

CYNTHIA HAYNES ABBOTT

Schenectady, New York

French

Cyn—the competent young matron (to be)—unruffled . . . sophistication . . . warm sense of humor . . . crisp intellect . . . cool capability. Perhaps she'll miss the Sweet Briar springs, but she'll find the stimulating people, the camellias, the salt water scenery elsewhere.

FLORENCE ELDER BAGLEY

Chattanooga, Tennessee

English

Understanding, steady in temperament, Flossie has a particular fondness for . . . literature, West Point, El Greco . . . antipathy for any sport more energetic than a walk . . . will in future years travel . . . visit friends.

CLIFFORD ANNE BARRETT

Houston, Texas

Art

Proven . . . from the small comes the unbounding. Anne loves smoothness, high-heeled shoes, penguins . . . knits—like fury, has an endless source of energy . . . contemplates marriage.

VIRGINIA LOU BEASLEY

Athens, Ohio

Art

The most effervescent prom trotter, the most enthusiastic equestrienne, the most conscientious, the most practical, that's Beasle. You'll see her around in good looking riding clothes, laughing uproariously at something—or nothing—until she goes home to manage the farm and marry the doctor. Anyone in particular, Beasle?

MARGARET ANNE BECKER

Indianapolis, Indiana

History

Becky is amazingly like the rest of us for all that is stored up inside one brain. She glides through the most nerve-wracking and heart-rendering crises with perfect serenity. Loves big dogs, enjoys sleeping and playing bridge (not simultaneously), wants to get married—ah—don't we all!

FRANCES L. BOYNTON

Belmont, Massachusetts

English

Beguiling brown eyes, a lovable person . . . a dynamo of efficiency that does credit to the Boston tradition that begins with her accent and comes out in Government 105 . . . the enviable sort of person that any weather becomes . . . charm and a happy facility for persuasion, she wants to do occupational therapy and will be excellent at it.

EDITH BRAINERD

Washington, D. C.

Romance Languages

A far-away look in her eyes, but she is very much here, and is one of the most energetic of individuals . . . interested and interesting, she has something to contribute to every group . . . she accomplishes where others only plan . . . the gift of patience . . . in common with all of us, she wants to get married.

PATRICIA M. BRIGHTBILL

Hummelstown, Pennsylvania

Biology

Pat is thoughtful, enjoys doing things for others, finds pleasure in her beautiful singing voice, her long, smooth hair, omnipresent knitting. She likes reading—movies—gardenias—most music, but abhors extreme jazz. Would like to combine career as technician with matrimony.

MARTHA TOMS BUCHANAN

Durham, North Carolina

Art

Martha is lovable, fun-loving, attractive, she adores light rain in April, witty people, dancing, laughing, orchids. Not only interested in art but knows about it. Also has a fair knowledge of fraternity pins. She thinks studying interior decorating will be fun and then, of course, the holy bonds of matrimony.

GRACE WILSON BUGG

Richmond, Virginia

Sociology and Economics

Usually found dashing off for the week-end looking as if she had just stepped from the pages of Vogue. Gracefully tall, attractive, enjoys wearing blue, loves pale sapphires that match her eyes. She delights in concerts and cooking, romantic poetry, Walt Disney. Grace would like to be a social worker for a while, and then—

ANNE MIDDLETON BUNDY

Norfolk, Virginia

Modern European History

Slap-happy, witty, almost always laughing or just about to laugh . . . but under this care-free exterior a very capable brain is working at the solution of weighty problems . . . flirtatious as ever was a Scarlett O'Hara . . . a fascination for Edgar Allen Poe and little Abner . . . she is very loyal and conscientious, with a vivid personality.

EUGENIA GRIFFIN BURNETT

Richmond, Virginia

International Affairs

Eugie's efficiency and intellectual abilities dovetail perfectly with her delight in the New Yorker attitude toward life, and her quick sense of the humorous . . . an extremely attractive Rock of Gibraltar . . . tops at the job of President of Student Government, tops at Princeton, Virginia and so forth through the list . . . serenity and dignity lend extra loveliness to her features . . . sympathetic, understanding, very friendly, firm, she has set us a wonderful example to attempt to follow.

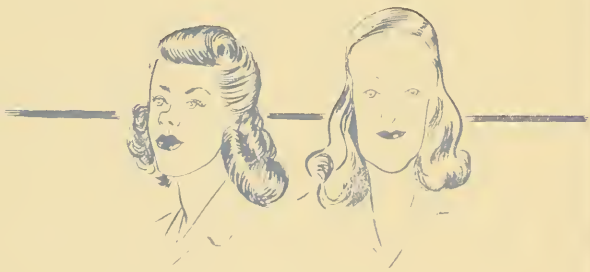

FRANCES NEELY CALDWELL

Tampa, Florida

Art

Unobtrusive good marks . . . very even disposition that makes life a pleasanter thing when with her . . . quite a coquette, and a successful one . . . a soft, pleasing voice . . . she is an extremely calm person, but doesn't want a calm environment, for she likes windy weather, mystery stories, a sort of turbulence in the things around her . . . she is artistic, and wants to "interior decorate" . . . but only for a while, then . . . it is needless to explain.

LUCY CARTER CALL

Richmond, Virginia

Psychology

"Beauty doth of itself persuade" . . . generous, quiet, kind . . . makes friends easily and holds them . . . add to this a keen sense of humor, appreciation of the ridiculous . . . a flavor of spice . . . it equals Pouce. . . . She likes . . . crispness . . . a good story . . . you may find her . . . any day . . . talking with Debbie and Douggie about their childhood.

ANNE McVEIGH CHAMBERLAIN

North Adams, Massachusetts

Romance Languages

Long, long dark hair that gives a touch of exoticism, which in turn leads us to give her the nick-name of "Cleo" . . . her favorite pastime is week-ending, and her favorite scene is the Hudson from West Point, which brings on the obvious conclusion . . . she has mastered several foreign languages, and would like to go into the Diplomatic Corps, so might logically turn out Sweet Briar's version of Mata Hari.

LUCY IMOGENE CASE

Watertown, Massachusetts

Sociology

One and all were shocked, completely aghast, but how admiring when Army emerged—shorn! One of the many manifestations of her courage to be herself and make others love her. She loves teddy bears, Walt Disney, is the pessimist or optimist, depending on the weather, happiest when looking down a road between two rows of Spanish Moss.

SUDIE GRAHAM CLARK

Greensboro, North Carolina

French

Warm sunshine . . . bubbles . . . red roses . . . portrait of Sudie. She has a passion for cotton dresses, snappy hair ribbons, mountains by the water and eating. A Rotarian friendliness without the back-slapping . . . Good marks without effort. Often seen "swinging" it with that good old North Carolina spirit.

ELIZABETH R. CHAMBERLAIN

New Britain, Connecticut

French

"Betsy" likes—wants—is—a great deal. She likes . . . puppies (housebroken—mais oui), a sincere responsive person, to relax in salty, old dungarees—wants . . . to go to South America, a farm on an island near the sea—is . . . pert, calm, self-contained, subtle (humor especially!) slow, but how sure!

KATHERINE RUTH COGGINS

San Francisco, California

Psychology

Immaculate as a pin, and as compact . . . beautiful skin . . cryptic, highly intelligent . . direct, she is immediately impressive . . . she has a quick mind, very economical of words, always being able to express herself in a few well-chosen phrases, of time, for she doesn't procrastinate or waste moments in fruitless daydreaming . . . she likes things exotic, green orchids, semi-tropical weather, Waikiki by moonlight.

CATHERINE O. COLEMAN

Fort Madison, Iowa

Philosophy

Looking for Kippy? You'll find her giving her all for P. and P., organizing, arranging, contributing good ideas, having cokes, has no aversion to beer—fascinated by politics, people—enjoys telling fanciful tales about Aunt Carol—intrigued by cockers (alive) and kangaroos (dead). She would love a chance to sit down—just once—just for a little while, and by the way, she wants to get her book published. Any offers?

VIRGINIA R. CUMMINGS

Richmond, Virginia

Sociology and Economics

Moonrise . . . orchids . . . fawns . . . dancing . . . gay week-ends . . . Virginia. Her happy disposition is expressed by a delightful smile or an infectious giggle. Her artistic talent and her sense of style will make her a great success in the fashion business.

MARGARET ANN CUNNINGHAM

Knoxville, Tennessee

Music

Peggy—exemplification of the feminine. Old lace, camellias, long novels, bridge, Jon Whitcomb's art—she likes them all—has one special kind of person in mind. A wedding is her favorite spectacle—she hopes to play the main part in one soon.

JANANA DARBY

Plaquemine, Louisiana

Religion and Social Problems

Jan is fun-loving and what's more, fun. She likes to read murder mysteries by the dozen . . . relaxation of the intellectual, is fond of yellow —wears it well . . . hopes to find her future in social work or assisting the medical profession.

NANCY ENGENIA DAVIS

Asheville, North Carolina

English

An unexplainable liking for chickens . . . spontaneity, a natural manner, a good listener (oh, unusual girl!) . . . naive . . . a romantic, favoring moonlight, mountains and a picturesque lake over the prosaic, typical scenes . . . she has the warmth of the truly human, the consideration of the truly tactful, the loyalty of the truly friendly.

CATHERINE ELIZABETH DIGGS

Schenectady, New York

Psychology

Elsie is a capable executive, a delightful collector of friends who makes giving a pleasure. Her attractiveness and beauty are like that of her favorite deep purple pansies. An ardent admirer of Walt Disney, loves listening to music. After college she wants to try a bit of child psychology and then marriage.

VIRGINIA ANNA DUGGINS

Washington, D. C.

Psychology

Devoted to the drama and things dramatic . . . gregarious . . . a long list of ambitions, in her own words, to "get a job in South America, continue working psychology, go to Yale School of Drama, make lots of money fast with little work" . . . ed. note: Just as a starter . . . she is interestingly unconventional, a person no one ever forgets.

ELOISE WALKER ENGLISH

Washington, D. C.

English

Dainty from top to toe . . . a brilliant student in English on the Honors Plan . . . sincere sweetness so rarely found . . . the direct look that shows perfect freedom of conscience and the courage to face the facts . . . Dresden China prettiness . . . she wants a house full—well, almost full—of Navy Juniors.

FLORENCE ADELE GILLEM

Birmingham, Alabama

English

Convinced, and with the courage of her convictions, Flossie is a very constructive person . . . quick and accurate in all she does . . . a Southerner, with all the sweetness and charm characteristic of that geographic locality . . . she is quietly and unobtrusively effective, has a certain seriousness, and will be, whatever she chooses to do, an alumna we will take pride in.

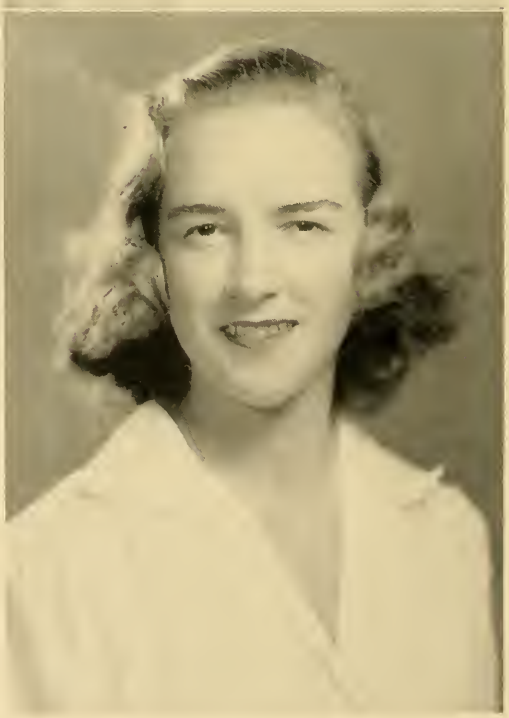

NANCY WARD GOLDBARTH

Richmond, Virginia

French

You'll find Nancy looking for a ride to Richmond, finding it and dashing off for a gay weekend. Loves hats—monkeys—waltzes—mountains. Remember her for her peaches and cream complexion—dancing—effervescent greeting—imperturbable good nature.

BETSY NEWMAN GILMER

Charlottesville, Virginia

English

A delightful balance of fun and earnestness—always ready with a quick smile or a sympathetic ear. Betsy adores sleeping—talking—orchids—the Naval Academy. Her blonde prettiness, and her personality are like the graceful charm of her favorite Strauss waltzes.

HARRIETTE CAPERTON GORDON

Washington, D. C.

English

It all adds up—Harriette loves diamonds, satin, has phenomenal eyelashes, is endowed with a fatal fascination, an optimist—need we mention that in spite of a terrific yen for the theater, she will find her future, making entrances to please, not millions, but one.

LAURA REED GRAVES

Lynchburg, Virginia

Economics and Sociology

Vivacity, enthusiasm, rare capacity for understanding, efficient capability, sincere desire to help others—these are only a few manifestations of Laura's "joie de vivre." She likes to listen, ride . . . happiest with real friends and her animals around.

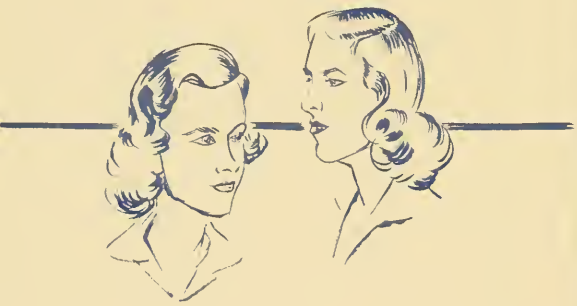

DIANA HOPE GREENE

Kennebunk, Maine

History and Government

As Editor of the News Di has seemed in her element as the executive with the dead-line to make . . . energetic, always interested in something vital, positive . . . she is dynamic, enthusiastic, and stimulates others with her own vigor . . . if Harry hadn't intervened, no telling how large a mark she would have made in the world but as it is, what a wife she'll make!

JULIA GROVES

Savannah, Georgia

French

Viennese waltzes and English landscapes are Chookie's favorite items of "stop, look and listen." Respect for gaiety—personality based on firm ideals and aspirations . . . combines a warm sympathy and graciousness with the Dean's List.

MARGARET BOOTH GWYN

Houston, Texas

Art

She looks like a will-o-the-wisp princess in a Medieval legend who rides away with the heroic prince on his white palfrey . . . but mentally, Flush is very much a child of today, witty, on the ball, ready and eager for anything and everything, a high sense of adventure . . . beautiful green eyes . . . She has about everything you think of when you think of nice characteristics for people to have.

ELIZABETH WOODARD HANGER

Bala, Pennsylvania

Psychology

Hank is the kind of person we like best . . . capable . . . even-tempered . . . friendly . . . dependable. She loves snow and diamonds, tweeds and novels; dachshunds and Beethoven. A beautiful dancer. Spins fascinating yarns.

SHIRLEY HAUSEMAN

Kenilworth, Illinois

Music

Usually found dashing from the music building to chapel and back again. Always friendly, appreciative, eager to settle down for a nice long conversation. She enjoys springtime and prefers the Sweet Briar scene to any other. She confesses sadly to being a pessimist but conceals it beautifully. Loves swimming, emeralds, roses—thinks that bears are the most delightful animals.

CATHERINE ANN HAUSLEIN

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Drama

Hauslein—abounding vitality—ever ready to plunge enthusiastically into any activity. She excells in sports, adores working with dramatics, seeing plays, and is happiest when dressed in one of her favorite suits. Frequently found at the Inn supplying laughs and interesting conversation.

JEAN ALICE HEDLEY

Yonkers, New York

English

Jean is reminiscent of her favorite weather, summer warmth—a definite personality balanced by a world of patience. She admires the genuine, the alert, likes velvet, English novels, is—an optimist, wants a career in advertising and later, marriage.

RUTH GARDNER HENSLEY

Asheville, North Carolina

Spotlight on Ruth . . . sapphire . . . camellia . . . moonlight on the ocean . . . sentimental music. She has an amiable disposition with a lovely smile to go with it. She loves spring, purple sweaters and sleeping. Can not quite decide between her objectives for a hospital career and a happy home.

LUCY BYRD HODGES

South Boston, Virginia

Sociology

Spring weather suits her, so small is she that the elements on the loose might blow her away . . . innocence, prettiness, the ability to make coyness a charm . . . the paradoxical name of Calamity . . . frivolity with an anchor . . . her aspiration is marriage without divorce.

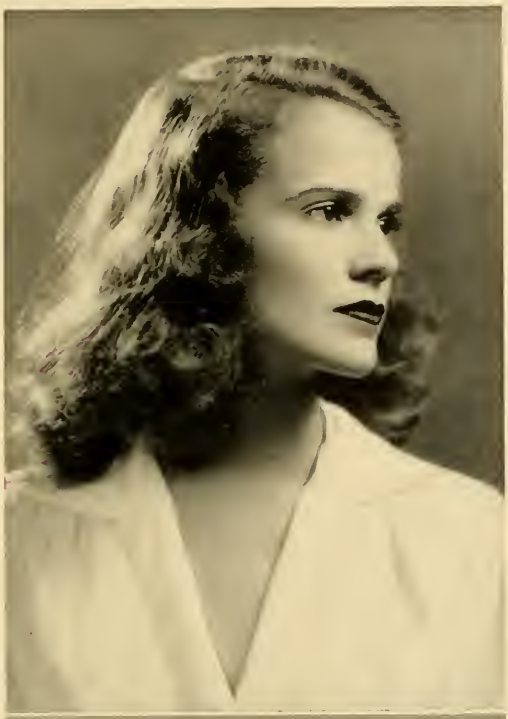

JANET GRISSIM HOUSTOUN

Houston, Texas

Ancient History

She has all the virtues that go with being a Texan, which is a lot to say . . . very cheerful, with a humor that she fits in aptly with the situation of the moment . . . as she graduated in February instead of June, we have already had to miss her.

DOROTHEA HUTCHINGS

Louisville, Kentucky

Mathematics

Can anything so small contain so much . . . incredible only if you don't know Dottie. You might find her any day tossing off an epic poem or such. She loves . . . high-heeled shoes, lions, architecture . . . hopes someday to have an architectural degree or at least a beautiful house of her own in the country.

SALLY LINDSAY JACKSON

Richmond, Virginia

Drama

A flash of lightning . . . her hilarious wit. A crash of thunder . . . the roar of applause that greets her arrival in any group. A comedienne par excellence . . . in a P&P production or in the Senior Parlor. Fun always, but balanced by a serious sense of responsibility. Loves tweeds and a twinkle in the eye, loathes all hats but the battered brown felt with the gay yellow plume.

RUTH FRANCES JACQUOT

Wilmington, Delaware

English

Drama with a broad a . . . Rut is a cynical optimist with a certain flippancy toward the idealistic . . . an intriguing sense of humor . . . fascinating eyebrows that make you want to get to know her . . . she wields a subtle, expressive, and thoughtful pen, and will probably end up the Edna St. Vincent Millay of Sweet Briar.

ALICE KING

Forest City, Arkansas

Mathematics

The perfect refreshment for hot weather—cool . . . complacent . . . optimistic. Alice is quite a tease, likes every type of person, and is, above all, thoughtful of others.

GRACE WILKINSON LANIER

Hopkinsville, Kentucky

Psychology

Grace is usually seen drifting around campus smiling, chatting, gloriously untouched by the petty worries of the day. She loves May weather . . . deep rose . . . picnicking . . . camellias. Remember her for her sparkling dark eyes, her friendliness, her dependability, her excellent work with the Y.W.C.A.

PENELOPE BATTLE LEWIS

University, Virginia

Religion

On land . . . in the air . . . on the sea . . . anywhere, everywhere . . . there is Penny with camera clicking. She is—an intelligent intellectual—a delightful person to chat with—a genuine girl with a sensayuma. She loves Braemer sweaters—lapis layuli—jonquils—thinks "The Phantom" is tops in literature.

ETHEL CHARLES LINDSAY

Portsmouth, Virginia

Psychology

At first glance you know she's a product of Southern womanhood . . . yet the acquiescence of honeyed words cannot conceal her mental depth . . . always in the middle of a chat . . . the mood of the moment rules her, never subject to sustained depression . . . she wants to get somewhere in the field of fashion illustration, and would look marvelous in her own creations.

GENEVIEVE MUNDY LYTTLE

Monroe, Virginia

Religion and Social Problems

Genevieve is a delightful combination of a keen mind and a winning personality. She is always in a good humor, optimistic, achieving A's in all her courses. Loves the fragrance of the gardena, the excitement of a football game, the rugged grandeur of the Virginia Mountains. She will be a success in whatever she does.

DOROTHY JANE MALONE

Atlanta, Georgia

Music

Modesty . . . "a virtue not often found" . . . radiantly beautiful red hair covers a keen mind which works in a quiet way—efficiently accomplishing what it set out to do. Dot likes a humorist . . . has a subtle sense of humor . . . is understanding, warm-hearted . . . wants to send her daughters to Sweet Briar to enjoy the new auditorium.

JESSIE POTTER MARR

Media, Pennsylvania

Art

The proverbial ray of sunshine . . . adaptable and easy to get along with . . . she likes Beethoven and Tommy Dorsey, Time and novels . . . sincerity, mental ability, and a compelling friendliness . . . she has the happy faculty of seldom being bored . . . better than anything, loves to ride . . . the kind of a girl who will make an A-1 wife.

FRANCES WARFIELD MEEK

Worthington, Ohio

Art

Frannie is a philosophic dreamer, yet a realist if the occasion calls for it . . . she loves horses, music and conversation . . . very generous, very wonderful disposition, an enviably objective outlook on life . . . soft brown curls . . . her future is undecided as yet, but it is sure to be interesting.

IRENE WARREN MITCHELL

Wilson, North Carolina

History

Lost, February 1942—one live spark incognito Renee . . . orchidacious, friendly, fond of books with well-developed plots and having a good time . . . contemplates . . . along with the fortunate . . . marriage.

VIRGINIA JARVIS MOOMAW

Roanoke, Virginia

Sociology and Economics

Remember her for the sparkle in her dark eyes, her flower-petal complexion. Gege is always delightfully Gege—generous, friendly. She adores animals—especially cows—tweeds—sapphires—red roses—whipping up costumes for P. and P. She is always happy, smiling—has achieved the remarkable feat of maintaining her cheerfulness even at breakfast time.

ANN MARVIN MORRISON

Lynchburg, Virginia

Music

Ann is warm-hearted, sincere, enthusiastic in everything she undertakes. She delights in music—pink camellias—mountains—pleasant chats. Know her by her fascinating hair ribbons, radiant smile, her fresh Woodbury complexion. You'll find her dreaming of a white picket fence with all the accessories—and of all things—sheep.

DOROTHY ANN MYERS

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

Sociology and Economics

Don't even bother to ask—she's away for the week-end . . . foregone conclusion. Admiring of interesting, understanding people, Dot is herself sympathetic, thoughtful, and occasionally she doffs her quiet efficiency to join those of the frivolous, idiotic world.

JOANNE M. OBERKIRCH

Manhasset, New York

Music

An open mind, a love of the beautiful . . . thoughtful, an interest in and a sympathy with everyone and everything . . . she is sincere, controlled, down-to-earth . . . she is primarily interested in music . . . a desire to help others, and the will to make that desire bring results.

DORIS OGDEN

Short Hills, New Jersey

English

An all-enveloping ability, a rare gift seldom found . . . she loves the out-doors, and something in her personality seems to have absorbed some of the wind, the fresh air, and the sun . . . poise . . . she would like to have a career in photography, and has already learned to handle the flashlight bulb artistically.

MARY MORSELL PEYTON

Annapolis, Maryland

Psychology

Polly delights in hiking in the bright autumn weather, dreaming about Annapolis, a certain young officer in Hawaii. She is serious, sensitive, with an astonishing flash of humor. Likes to spend an afternoon reading phantasies, listening to symphony, she will continue to win friends with her sincerity and unselfishness.

MARY RUTH PIERSON

Evanston, Illinois

English

Piquant, effervescent, irresistible . . . congeniality, and the mysterious ability to make her influence felt without being resented . . . she is whimsical, airy, and with such a gaiety and enthusiasm that we can never imagine her old . . . pretty in an elfin way . . . she is fascinated by the Bohemian way of life, and we expect to visit in her Greenwich Village basement home next year.

MARGARET KENT PRESTON

Havana, Cuba

International Affairs

Her perfect features and interesting expression make Pres a truly beautiful girl . . . and withal, she has one of the most impressive minds on the campus . . . President of the International Relations Club, she has made it a tremendous success by her leadership this year . . . not enough nice things can be said about Pres . . . when she graduates she will leave a place vacant that we can hardly hope to ever fill so well again.

ELEANOR MORRISON RINGER

Asheville, North Carolina

Drama

Few people endowed with the dramatic spark are "in this world"—"Ringer" is one of them. Fond of English tweeds, riding, and "bulling" about something she can get her teeth into (the rag maybe?), she claims to be a pessimist. Her frankness and sincerity are a comfort, her enthusiasm, invariably opportune.

BARBARA ANN RIPLEY

Chicago, Illinois

English

Le danse and all that goes with it, the classics, aestheticism—thoughtful of people, is herself kind-hearted and conscientious, will stick in any argument—and how ably!

NATALIE MATHER RYAN

Toledo, Ohio

Drama

Bambi, the girl whose lovely smile and witty repartee (sometimes accidental) have made her famous. Her favorite scene, a nice one—a fireplace, a man, some brandy. An inordinate love of clothes leads Bambi to read Vogue, wear its finest, and prompts her ambition to be a fashion writer.

GLORIA SANDERSON

Shreveport, Louisiana

Music

A fable—blond hair, wide blue eyes . . . sincerity, cheer, that musical gift . . . loves "cheery ha-ha dopes" . . . what wonder she is a favorite at Washington and Lee.

HELEN JEFFERSON SANFORD

Dallas, Texas

Art

The bridge table, football bleachers, or a good old bull session are Slug's idea of bliss. Very fond of suits . . . cows . . . emeralds . . . opera. She is an active participant in Sweet Briar activities, refreshingly natural, a genuine friend—will keep you in stitches with her subtle, dry wit.

JEANNE SAWYER

Andover, Massachusetts

English

"A doer of deeds"—Jeanne likes to scribble—does very little aimlessly . . . quick in manner, clever, intelligent, understanding, straightforward, intense—these are but a few facets of her personality . . . a few years hence will find her presiding over a country home—with all the trimmings.

SALLY SCHALL

Charleston, South Carolina

Art

She makes us think of sparkling Champagne, magnolias, wind in the wheat . . . Sally is active and happy, bubbling over with joie de vivre, oh-so pretty . . . utterly feminine, artistic, graceful . . . her favorite jewel is a diamond, her favorite piece of music is Lohengrin, the Introduction of Act III . . . it looks as though she were slated for an early marriage.

PHYLLIS MARY SHERMAN

Bronxville, New York

Drama

Talented, with the ability to live in her role for the audience . . . definite grace, a face fascinating to watch in its expressions . . . she is aloof from, and has no connection with, the regrettable things of life; figuratively speaking, it is as if she walked with her skirts always carefully held above the mud . . . one of the most individual people we have ever known, so that it is hard to put her on paper.

DIANA ROGERS STOUT

Memphis, Tennessee

English

Pink cheeks, dark hair, lots of laughs . . . pretty, a wonderful disposition, enough of the intellectual without too much of it . . . interesting to talk to, fun to be with, hard to forget . . . emphasis on her sense of humor . . . Di doesn't know what she wants to do, but we wish she'd take a post-graduate course at Sweet Briar.

ALICE WARREN SWENEY

St. Paul, Minnesota

English

Swede commands respect and admiration . . . President of Tau Phi, she personifies the ideals of that society . . . fun to be with, capable, versatile . . . a perfect lady . . . what Sweet Briar now loses the nation gains, for she is very interested in national defense, we already feel the safer.

EDNA SYSKA

Bronxville, New York

Art

Animation and, for more emphasis, more animation, giving the impression that she is really more alive than other people . . . absentminded and rush aroundy . . . Eddie is continually very happy, continually very funny, continually very attractive . . . she loves to uninhibitedly jitterbug . . . belongs on the asset side of any balance sheet.

KORAH LOUISE SMITH

Caracas, Venezuela

Religion

Antipathy for half-way measures . . . attracted by vivid and intense things. Korah would like to be surrounded by . . . San Francisco weather, chartreuse, black panthers, and percussion music . . . is an optimist! . . . finds everything in existence intensely interesting. Her future—just wait and see.

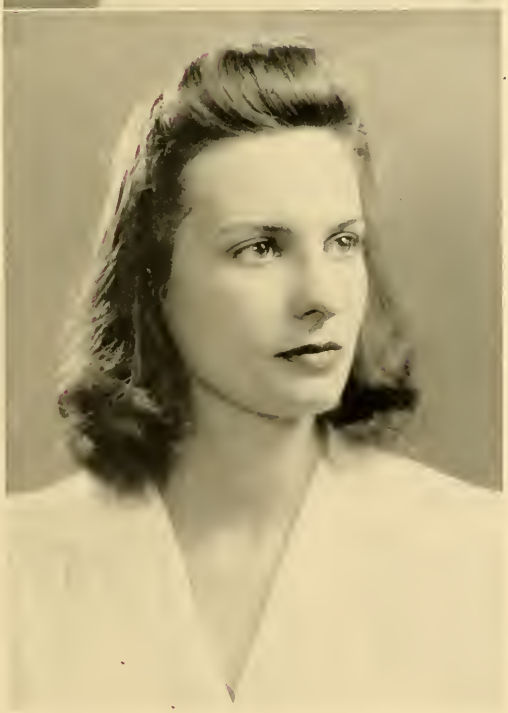

JANE MAY TAYLOR

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Psychology

Fair and warmer . . . blue. Annapolis, here we come! Jane rides, reads the funny papers with deep concern in appreciation of their art, likes pleasant cheerful people, is herself sweet—dynamic when the occasion calls. Is waiting for the second ring—third finger—left hand.

NANCY JANE TAYLOR

Miami Beach, Florida

Classical Civilization

Fond of cocker spaniels, hot weather, Russian music, people . . . "They're all fascinating," Nan likes to look at . . . emerald, the ocean at Miami, aspires to a life of writing . . . newspaper work.

MARGARET FOOTE TROUTMAN

Atlanta, Georgia

Psychology

From Atlanta, she has all the historic virtues of the South, graciousness, charm, an extensive supply of tact, and the characteristic of displaying an interest in other's interests . . . President of her Class, for three years in a row, she is indeed worthy of the honor . . . and with the exalted side of her, she has the very human and congenial love of the ridiculous . . . and a tendency to exaggerate . . . a personality girl.

SALLY CALVERT WALKE

Baltimore, Maryland

Psychology

Si sets the unbeatable pace of all contenders for aspiration in the male line—such a gay exterior hides a lot of serious thinking—definite likes and dislikes, active interest in those around her, sympathetic companionship . . . for the future Si seeks a country home . . . cluttered up by the charming inevitables—children and animals.

MARY MILLER WHEAT

University, Virginia

Music

In spite of ardent vows that she will never touch a piano again, almost any hour of the day will find "Toppin" working in the music building . . . her favorites—Bach and Mozart. Sincere, honest and kind-hearted, she likes an uncompromising person, and vehemently condemns the frivolity of college girls.

DAPHNE BOWEN WITHINGTON

Milton, Massachusetts

Sociology and Economics

Daph can always be depended upon when we of lesser capability lose our heads. She is known for her genuine amicability, loves to let down her hair and have a rollicking old time. She thinks that the horse is king of beasts, and that Strauss waltzes, pleasant intervals of relaxation are requirements of daily living. Daph excels in all sports, and she is a leader in the Sweet Briar health program.

HELEN DEBORAH WOOD

Greenwich, Connecticut

English

A toast to Debby—the sparkling champagne cocktail of Sweet Briar—Remember her as our most charming Chairman of the Social Committee—A quiet sense of humor—intelligence—personality plus—all the ingredients for filling a difficult position with effortless efficiency. She loves wearing brilliant red to contrast with her dark eyes and hair, rooting for the Dodgers, enjoying the beauty of a New England landscape or a rainy twilight in New York City.

GRACE DOUGLAS WOODS

Portsmouth, Virginia

History

"One minute please—Miss Woods is busy!"—either . . . looking for "things" . . . playing victrola records . . . talking . . . teasing Frannie . . . OR reading History. Douggie likes . . . men with flat feet and senses of humor . . . her own "chefs-d'oeuvres" produced in studio—is . . . a red-haired idealist . . . a ready wit—will do lots of different things and really do them.

MIMI GALLOWAY

Memphis, Tennessee

English

Dark hair, fascinating eyes, and a quiet smile equals Mimi. A Memphis special with a special interest in the Navy . . . loved because she is always agreeable. Mimi will miss the bridge games and "bull sessions" but plans to busy herself with an important career . . . marriage.

Activities

Activities

Student Government Association

President, EUGENIA BURNETT
Vice-President, LUCY CALL
Secretary, FRANCES BOYNTON
Treasurer, ANNE MCJUNKIN

"The purpose of this Association shall be to foster the individual and community interests of Sweet Briar students by maintaining the high standard of conduct and decorum, and by strengthening the spirit of unity and the sense of individual responsibility implicit in the ideal underlying the foundation of Sweet Briar College . . . " These principles set down by the Constitution of the Student Government Association have been maintained ever since its founding in 1906. ¶All students are active members of the association, and through membership are given aid in developing a sense of individual and community responsibility, fostering the ideals of cooperation and tolerance. The manifestation of these ideals can be seen in the House Councils on which each girl serves once during the year. The Executive Committee of the association is composed of the officers of the association, the six House Presidents, and the President of the Freshman Class.

Treasurer, GRACE LANIER

At work—at play the Y. W. C. A. takes a vital part in Briarites' activities throughout the year. Its members work enthusiastically to keep high the spiritual ideals in life and to instill these ideals into each and every student.

Their charitable work is carried on in the form of educational and recreational programs designed to bring greater opportunities to the underprivileged living in Amherst County.

On campus, by sponsoring the well-known coffee hours, the "Y" increases the friendly relations between faculty and students—simple and inspiring Chapel services are held during the year.

Christian Association

To acquaint Frannie Freshman with the rules and traditions of Sweet Briar and to awake Sally Senior from her summer's nap, the "Y" sends a copy of the Student Handbook to each student before they leave for school in the fall. Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior renew old friendships and make new ones at the Y.W.'s gay party given the first week of school.

Paint and Patches, Sweet Briar's dramatic club, lures every year all young enthusiasts of the drama and dramatic technique, who, by their combined efforts, produce plays which are highlights of entertainment at Sweet Briar. Two plays are given in the fall, one of which is open to new students, another is given in the early spring, and usually one more during graduation week.

Produced This Year

"Arms and the Man"—Shaw.

"Doctor Knock"—Jules Romain.

"Dr. Faustus"—Marlowe.

Q. V.

Q. V., founded by the class of 1937, is a Sophomore honorary society. Its members, chosen by those of the preceding year, are selected for their enthusiasm and cooperation during their Freshman year. So that they may function effectively, their identity is kept secret until the May step-singing. This group feels its responsibility to unify the class and to keep alive an interest in the various activities which give Sweet Briar its cohesive character.

Sweet Briar Choir

Head of Choir, DOROTHY MALONE

Librarian, BARBARA BRIGGS

Carefully selected and trained, this group is the subject of well-earned praise. Aside from providing the music for the Sunday Church Services, the Choir is well known for their Christmas Carol Service, and their Baccalaureate Service. For week day services the Chapel Choir, a voluntary group, provides the music.

President, ANN MORRISON

You say you are a songbird? Here is the chance to show your talent if you are not shy of hard work. Mr. Finch's stimulating direction and the fun of its various activities have made the Glee Club one of Sweet Briar's most alluring book-diverters. Besides the annual Christmas caroling, the Glee Club gives joint concerts with other colleges. This year it was joined at Sweet Briar by the Duke University Glee Club and the Harvard Symphony Orchestra.

Orientation

Head, PHYLLIS SHERMAN

Assistant Head, CYNTHIA ABBOTT

Hi! . . . Where are you from? . . . Oh, do you know . . . ? Always ready with the correct word to make new students feel the friendliness of Sweet Briar, the members of the Orientation Committee do their part to drive away the pangs of homesickness which accompany that new luggage and those old saddle shoes. All new students become acquainted with some members of the Committee during the summer through their friendly and informative letters. Picnics, dinners and other entertainments bring all classes together, and help new students to feel that they too are a part of Sweet Briar.

Social Committee

Head, DEBORAH WOOD

Responsible for those festive, Saturday night informal dances, for the music on Friday nights in the Refectory, and for the regulation of the college's social standards, the Social Committee, composed of thirteen Seniors and one Junior, is an important part of a Briarite's life. "Please remember to dress for dinner", "Don't forget to sign up your date", "The last bell has rung", are phrases familiar to all and are an essential part of the Social Committee's vocabulary.

The Brambler

Five times during the school year the Brambler makes its appearance. Each time its pages are filled with short stories, informal essays, poems, and other articles of interest. The staff, composed of upperclassmen and a sophomore representative, encourages dormant genius in all classes to rally to the cause and make each issue more interesting, more varied. This year "Bettina Briarite," a typical Sweet Briar lass, has been introduced as a guide through the magazine. Cartoons and an increase in size are two other innovations which have been enthusiastically received this year.

Handbook

It's time for school bells, and books! Every student, old and new, is reminded of this when they receive a copy of the Student Handbook at the end of the summer. Containing the Constitution and by-laws of the Student Government Association, the Faculty Rulings, the point system of the A.A., the College Directory, and the college calendar, plus the customs and traditions of Sweet Briar, this book is an invaluable assistance in introducing the college's regulations to new students. Well thumbed after the first six weeks, the Handbook is a friend in need—knows all, tells all—a friendly reminder of the do's and dont's.

Midwinters at Sweet Briar

Dear Valentine,

Only time for a note to say how excited I am you are coming to Midwinter Dances. We will have such fun with a tea-dance Saturday afternoon, a dinner-dance, and then the formal dance that evening with the Duke Ambassadors providing the music.

The Gym is decorated to look like a huge Valentine and it is really marvelous.

I am so happy they are having the dance Saturday night instead of Friday so Uncle Sam's Armed Forces can come.

Love,
Your Valentine

English Club

President, ELOISE ENGLISH

All English and Drama majors are invited to come once a month and chat awhile about new books and authors at meetings of the English Club. In these informal meetings an interest in modern literary trends is cultivated, and professional and amateur criticism is offered about the works and authors of this modern world. To establish a good contemporary library, the Club uses its funds in purchasing outstanding current books which are given to the Browsing Room at the end of the year.

The sure cure, prescribed for that well known stage fright is frequent recitals, by which each member may accustom herself to an audience, in an informal atmosphere. To further the appreciation of music interesting talks are given by members and faculty. Membership is not reserved for future Paderewskis or Kirsten Flagstads but for those students actually interested in music.

Texas Club

President, ANNE BARRETT

The Lone Star State is well represented at Sweet Briar—they love the Sweet Briar Rose but keep alive their loyalty to the Blue Bonnets in their Texas Club to which all the Texas girls automatically belong. Their picnics in fall and spring, their annual Halloween party given by Mrs. Raymond, and their final banquet at the end of the year point to the fact that this is strictly a social club and Texas girls are "party girls" at heart.

Le Cercle Français

President, ELIZABETH CHAMBERLAIN

Vitally interested in the language and culture of France "Le Cercle Français" has succeeded in creating and maintaining a real French atmosphere by encouraging French conversation, by lectures on the language, music and art of France. Not satisfied with passive interests, the Club's greatest item on its budget this year was for French War Relief.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association is one of the most important organizations on the Sweet Briar Campus since it provides recreation for every student, and it is the balance wheel in her academic life. The Freshmen and Sophomores take required work in all three seasons, and a program of optional sports is provided for the Juniors and Seniors. The ten major sports have departments in the Association which are headed by various students.

Archery

Head of Archery, BETTY JANE LEIGHTON

Arrows flying through the air—enthusiastic archers aiming at brightly-colored targets—always seen in both spring and fall—advantage of being either an individual or group sport—numerous novelty tournaments enjoyed by all—competitions for beginners—the college ladder and best individual score for advanced students.

One of the most popular sports—excellent horses—indoor and outdoor rings—chill November morning for the Thanksgiving Day Hunt—Amherst horse show in the fall—miles of beautiful winding bridle paths—the climax —May Day horse show.

Creating

YEAR BOOKS

of Distinction

It takes more than "good printing" to create outstanding Year Books.

The J. P. Bell Company specializes in Year Books. First, by maintaining a Department of trained and experienced personnel that devotes its entire time to the planning and servicing of Year Books. Secondly, by maintaining a plant equipped with the most modern machinery, manned by skilled, efficient workmen.

There is a certain mark of Distinction on all J. P. Bell publications.
